This round table will bring together the Editors-in-Chief and Associate Editors of the most representative scientific journals in the field of natural products. It is intended to discuss the paradigm of excellent articles and metrics of journals, where his/her opinion about metrics and the relationship with the publication of excellence from the editorial point of view will be discussed. How can we use metrics and consider the DORA, Leiden, and COARA statements to evaluate CVs and projects? How can the Editorial help to disseminate excellent results for public impact? On the other hand, we will look at the use of AI for the benefit of authors, editorials, and the technical quality of edited papers. How can we use AI intelligently? focusing mainly on its use in publishing.
